About the Instructor

Kurt Thompson owns K Thompson & Associates, LLC, a water use and training consultant with over 28 years of landscape and irrigation experience working in contracting, distribution, and manufacturing. He is also a contributing author of the IA Certified Irrigation Contractor Workbook, the CIC class curriculum, as well as other IA certification programs and manuals. Mr. Thompson is an Irrigation Association supervising instructor, teaching for the IA for 19 years, and taught the very first IA certification training course (CLIA). He is only one of eight people in the world to hold all of the IA landscape irrigation certifications. Kurt creates an energetic learning environment that puts some fun into the review of the technical information. He will even give proven studying tips to prepare for the exam.
